HOPE, Ark. (AP) — Publisher Alex Washburn plans to carry his appeal of a tax ruling to Congress.

Washburn has been turned down in order, by the federal Tax Court 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and U.S. Supreme Court. He sought to claim deductions for money spent in obtaining petitions to get a popular vote on some legislation.

Washburn said Tuesday he had spent more than $18,000 on the case since 1955 "but I don't regret a bit of it." He said Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., has proposed a bill in Congress to permit deduction of expenses lawfully incurred in attempting to influence legislation and Washburn said he would do all he could to get this bill passed.

Those bureaucrats are getting pretty rough when they say an American citizen can't stand up and be heard," he said. "Oh, they say you've got a right to be heard but you can't spend any money on it."

He asked, "How is anybody going to go anywhere to appear before the legislature or Congress without spending any money?" Washburn said he spent $6,000 in 1955 getting petitions to have a popular vote on a law exempting livestock and poultry feed from the sales tax.

Two years later he circulated petitions to refer a one-cent sales tax increase to the people.

In 1955 petitions didn't get on the ballot because of a legal technicality. A majority supported the 1957 tax increase when that came to a popular vote.

Truck Returned to County by Harry Robinson

A truck for which B. W. Edwards brought a taxpayers' suit to recover for use and benefit of Hempstead County against U. G. Garrett and Harry Robinson has been returned to the county.

The truck, a 1954 F-600 Ford flatbed, was returned by Mr. Robinson late yesterday. Judge Orie Byers said. Asked about the condition of the truck, Judge Byers said it "is just an old truck but it can be used."

The suit was filed March 13 by Attorney James H. Pilkinton for Mr. Edwards. The suit alleged that Mr. Garrett, as county judge, swapped the truck to Robinson for an undetermined amount of sand and gravel and that this action was a violation of Act 193 of 1945.

Mr. Pilkinton said today he did not know just where the return of the truck left the case and he would have to talk with his client.

Mr. Robinson and Mr. Garrett had no comment except "the truck involved isn't worth over $35 and is hardly worth being involved in a lawsuit over."

Emergency Jobless Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today passed an emergency unemployment aid bill intended to start payment in early April of nearly $1 billion in benefits.

The Senate was scheduled to vote later today. Democratic leaders hoped to send the bill immediately to President Kennedy, who has given it the No. 1 spot on his list of legislation.

The President's signature would authorize payments to begin in 15 days to persons who have been out of work so long they have used up their jobless benefit entitlements.

Administration spokesmen estimate as many as three million persons might benefit during the two-year life of the program.

The legislation acted on today is a compromise between slightly different versions previously passed by the House and Senate.

Youth Holds Hope of U. S. Kiwanis Told

"The youth of today is the hope of tomorrow, and is the most important resource we have in America," Attorney General Frank B. Rowland told the Hope Kiwanis Club yesterday at its luncheon meeting at Hotel Barlow.

The basic foundation for good character and training is found in the home, the church and the school, he pointed out, and then he compared this kind of foundation with "broken homes, parent neglect and separation" which he said often led to juvenile delinquency, crime and corruption.

Scattered Frost Predicted Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered frost is predicted for northern Arkansas tonight, but agricultural experts said it shouldn't cause much damage to crops.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock predicts lows in the 30s in the northern part of the state with lows in central Arkansas in the upper 30s to two 40s with some scattered frost.

Agricultural representatives said that peaches and other fruit crops usually are not severely damaged until the temperature drops below 30.

Truck crops generally either have not been planted or are varieties which mild frost would not hurt.

The Weather Bureau said the frost is later than average, but not a record. The average date of the last killing frost in Little Rock is March 17, but it has come as late as April 20.

Asks Sweeping Foreign Aid Plan Change

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy asked Congress today for a drastically revamped long-term foreign aid program—the most sweeping overhaul since the Marshall Plan started in 1948.

It would include $7.3 billion in five-year loan authority to meet "the crucial decade of development" abroad.

The President put no overall price tag on his program. But officials figured the five-year total would run several times the $7.3 billion proposed for economic development loans overseas.

For the coming year, the program would equal the $4 billion sought by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for foreign aid.

In a special message to Congress, Kennedy said, "It will both benefit and benefit us to take this step boldly. For we are launching a decade of development on which will depend, substantially, the kind of world in which we and our children shall live."

The President hoped to overcome opposition in some congressional quarters both to the money amount and to his loan systems which would bypass congressional appropriations procedures. Key legislators rebuffed Eisenhower on similar counts in the past.

Kennedy proposed:

1. Lumping most existing economic aid programs into a single new agency whose boss would report directly to the secretary of state and the President.

2. Five-year authorization for the new aid agency plus five-year authority to borrow from the Treasury to make loans for economic projects abroad, $900 million in the fiscal year starting next July 1 and $1.6 billion annually for the following four years.

The loans would run up to 50 years, at no interest, or at low rates of perhaps up to 2 per cent, and would be repayable in dollars.

3. Arms aid, now running about $2 billion a year and administered through the Pentagon, would be separated from the annual foreign aid package and placed in the military budget.

4. Carefully tailored programs for each country receiving aid, based on over all needs and local resources rather than unrelated projects, with special favor toward those nations undertaking social and economic reforms.

5. Emphasizing loans repayable in dollars, doing away with most of the loans repayable in local foreign currencies now handed out by the D.E.

6. Encouraging other industrial nations to share more of the aid burden.

For the fiscal year beginning July 1, Kennedy said that while he would stick with Eisenhower's $4 billion spending request he would shift sharply the use of the funds, including transferring $200 million from military to economic aid.

Trustee Has Been Missing Eleven Days

PARCHMAN, Miss. (AP)—Dale (Cowboy) Morris, serving a 12-year term for manslaughter, has been missing from the state prison for 11 days, it was learned today.

"We hoped we'd catch him or he'd return before the news got out," Supt. Fred Jones said.

Morris, who is from Montana, was in prison for the slaying of a Bay St. Louis, Miss., store keeper.

He was described as a model prisoner.

Prison officials said he was sent to Arkansas to get some horses but failed to return. He was due back Saturday night, March 11.

Two prison employees went with Morris to Fort Smith, Ark. He was on a three day furlough.

The employees, Lamar Haggard, a guard, and Epsi Jennings, a sergeant, returned on schedule.

The employees said Morris asked to stay over a few hours so he could qualify to get married under Arkansas laws, Jones said, and Jennings and Haggard agreed to return without him. Morris was to fly back to Parchman.

Jones said he has been in contact with authorities over the country. He said he learned Morris did not get married in Arkansas.

Morris was tried three times for the slaying of Charles Flink, 38-year old novelty store owner, each ended in mistrial, and Morris finally pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 12 years imprisonment.

Jones said he thought Morris got mixed up with a woman at Fort Smith and ran off with her.

"He was quite a ladies man," Jones said, "and we know he left Fort Smith."

SEATO Conference Is Started

By DON HUTH

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Military strategists of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) opened a three-day conference today and quickly reflected President Kennedy's new tough line to keep Laos out of Communist hands.

Gen. Surajit Charusreni of Thailand, the conference chairman, issued a statement on behalf of the eight member nations stressing the need for continued military planning "to resist and repel Communist aggression, in the light of recent developments in the treaty area."

Laos is not a member of SEATO but is under the protective wing of the anti-Communist defense alliance.

While the first statement to emerge from the closed sessions made no specific mention of Laos, the military chiefs made clear they had in mind that war-torn nation where Communist-supplied rebels are threatening the pro-Western government.

Informed sources said the SEATO military advisers made last-minute changes in their statement to "make stronger" the reference to combating Communist aggression on the suggestion of Adm. Harry D. Felt, head of the U.S. defense.

The secret military discussions are a certain raiser to the opening Monday of a session of the foreign ministers of the eight SEATO nations. It will be one of the most critical meetings in the seven-year history of the anti-Communist alliance.

Dean Rusk will attend the meetings next week in his first overseas mission as U.S. secretary of state.

Tuesday's meeting was attended by military men from Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines.

Plan to Aid Depressed Areas Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A loan and grant program of nearly $400 million to help build up job opportunities in chronically depressed areas was approved today by the House Banking Committee.

The bill, one of President Kennedy's major legislative recommendations, already has been passed in somewhat different form by the Senate. The House committee approved it over the strong objection of a group of Republican members.

The GOP opponents said in a statement that passage of the measure "could only bring bitter disillusionment to most of the unemployed in most of the depressed areas."

Speeded-up tax writeoffs would have brought about the building of more new factories, the statement added.

The bill as approved would authorize revolving funds totaling $300 million to provide loans for plant sites, machinery in exceptional circumstances, and public facilities in areas of chronic unemployment.

It also would authorize grants of $75 million for public facilities and $19 million more in grants for economic surveys and for retraining of workers deprived of their normal employment by declining industries.

The whole program would be under the direction of the secretary of commerce, who would be authorized to seek the help of the labor, agriculture and other appropriate departments in carrying it out.

The principal difference between the bill approved by the committee and the one approved by the Senate is in the method of financing.

The House bill would require regular appropriations to provide the funds, while the Senate measure would authorize borrowing, the method opponents call "back door financing."

Sponsors of the bill have said they will attempt to bring it to a vote in the House late this week or early next.

Welfare Aid to More Clients
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Assistant Welfare Commissioner A.J. Moss reported Tuesday the number of state welfare aid clients had increased slightly since February.

Moss said 77,558 persons, or 243 more than last month, have received aid in March. The total monetary outlay has been $3,340,067, or an increase of $3,117.

balance of payments situation, America's competitive position abroad, the administration program for economic growth, along with wage-price and employment problems.

The committee, created by Kennedy's executive order Feb. 16, consists of seven representatives each of management and organized labor, five public members and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

Goldberg, designated chairman for this year, has said that on one problem—maintaining America's competitive position abroad and increasing exports—labor and management both have a heavy stake and can find a common ground.

Due to address the advisory group beside the President, are Goldberg and Hodges, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Treasury Douglas Dillon, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and Walter W. Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

Quachita River Gives Up Body

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—The body of 34 year old Ivan Fowler, who disappeared along with another man Feb. 26, was found today in the Quachita River at Miller's Bluff.

His body was recovered about four miles downstream from where the body of 54-year-old Julian Hugen was found March 14. The two men vanished during a boat expedition on the Ouachita, which at the time was swollen by heavy rains.

Searchers, including a skiver, probed the river for several days after the men were reported missing. Fowler's body was caught on a line being used in search operations.

Fowler lived in Smackover. Hugen operated a fishing camp near Smackover.

Plans to Use Labor and Management
By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy plans to put top representatives of American management and labor to work today helping him solve one of the nation's most pressing problems.

Kennedy called members of his 21-man advisory committee on labor-management policy to the White House for briefings from him and a half dozen mainstays in his administration.

The President has made it clear he wants members of the advisory group to put aside partisan views and approach a wide array of national problems from the standpoint of what's best for the country as a whole.

On that basis, the President has said he will ask the group to consider means for linking many problems other than traditional labor-management differences.

Topics which the White House said would be considered in the closed-door talks today include industrial relations problems in defense industries, the international

Anonymous Letter Writer Remorseful

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:
To all anonymous letter writers I say, don't do it! My husband, an alcoholic, has a weakness for every skirt. In a fit of jealousy, I became furious with a married woman he was dating. Taking a coward's way out, I sent an anonymous letter to her husband, telling the whole, sordid truth. What trouble that has caused! Now I want to right the wrong. Should I confess to the wife and ask her forgiveness, or should I go to the husband? — Anonymous Letter Writer sop to your conscience or to help the others involved? Will you, as the wrong wife, glorify your betrayal? What effect will the telling have upon your husband, the other woman and her husband? You know their temperaments. I don't. Tread carefully. The woman may have convinced her husband that your anonymous letter was but the evil dream of a poison pen writer. By confessing, you make it reality.

Dear Helen:
I am desperately in love with a guy but I'm of one faith, he of another. He says he'll never change. I know I wouldn't change my religion for anything in this world. So there we are. What should I do—keep on going with him in the hope that he changes his mind, or leave him? We have tried to stay away from one another but just can't. —Mixed-up Girl

Dear Mixed-up Girl: You both sound pretty firm. This presages no good for a happy marriage. Either you do or you don't love each other enough to forsake all else in this world. If you don't, better steer clear of marriage and the rough waters such a difference of opinion would churn up.

Dear Helen:

I have a mother and father that argue night after night. I'm 16 years old and a boy. My sister is 16 and a junior in high. We can't get anything done when we are home. We close our bedroom doors but still hear our parents fighting.

My sister is leaving home once she finishes school, then I'll be here all by myself. I've talked with both my parents but it doesn't help. I haven't anyone close to talk to since my girl friend moved away so I am asking your advice. —Desperate Boy

Dear Desperate Boy: Your sister, being the elder, should back you up. Two voices are stronger than one. How about both of you telling your parents to call it a day? If that doesn't work, ask the family doctor, clergyman or lawyer to help. In the doing, they may help your parents to see themselves for what they are—

U.S. Would Let Russia See Tests

By DORIAN FALK

GENEVA (AP) — The United States proposed today to allow Soviet inspection of American atomic devices exploded either in seismic research programs or for peaceful purposes.

The American proposal was made with British backing at the resumed three-power talks on suspension of nuclear weapons tests. Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin declined to express an attitude until his government can study the proposal in detail.

The West earlier had proposed a 27-month moratorium on small underground tests. The Soviet Union asked for at least four years. The United States now is willing to extend the moratorium.

During the moratorium research would be undertaken to improve detection methods.

U. S. Delegate Arthur H. Dean's proposals were aimed at breaking the deadlock in the 2½-year-old negotiations.

The Western powers also are willing to reduce the number of control posts to be constructed in the Soviet Union.

The negotiations have bogged down over methods of policing a test ban and particularly over the difficulty of detecting underground tests. To gain more information on this subject, the United States proposes to hold some underground tests using old devices. Under Dean's new proposal these would be open to unrestricted Soviet inspection.

Two irresponsible and immature human beings who are rapidly forfeiting their right to be parents.

Bentonville Store Hit by Fire

BENTONVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

Fire swept through a two-story brick building on the square of this northwest Arkansas city today, wrecking several business establishments and damaging others.

No one was injured, and the flames were brought under control in about two hours.

Mayor Wayne Lawson said he believed it was the worst fire Bentonville had had in 30 or more years, but he declined to attempt an estimate of monetary damage.

A series of minor explosions, apparently caused by the heat, occurred while the fire was raging. Officials said they were not caused by gas or gasoline.

The fire apparently started in McCurdy's Bargain Center, a discount house, which changed ownership a few days ago. The store was not open for business but still had stock stored in it.

The fire spread to Cooper's Jewelry Store and Grace's Beauty Shop, first floor establishments adjoining the downstairs part of the discount house.

Other business places suffering damage from fire, smoke and water included the Plaza Theater, nearby Congo service station.

There are 93 lakes in Kosciusko County in Indiana.

Providence, Holy Cross Are Glamor Teams

BY HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—New England basketball, like New England weather, is noted for being utterly unpredictable. "Unpredictable" could be the key word for the semifinals of the National Invitational basketball tournament, of which match two New England teams in one bracket and two Midwestern teams in the other.

Providence College, runner-up to Bradley in last year's tournament but unseeded and almost unheralded this year, meets fiery Holy Cross in one game at Madison Square Garden Thursday night and Dayton faces St. Louis in the other.

Providence and Holy Cross have made themselves the glamor teams of the 1961 tournament, partly because of the enthusiasm of their fans and partly because of the shooting ability of Jack (the Shot) Foley of the Crusaders and John (Space) Egan of the Providence Friars.

Providence reached the semifinals Tuesday night with a comeback 71-68 victory over Niagara after Al Butler, the loser's clever all-around star, had held Egan virtually scoreless for about 25 minutes. Earlier the Eagles had beaten DePaul in a minor upset.

Aggressive Holy Cross beat Detroit 86-82 and Memphis State 81-69—the two highest scores of the tournament.

Dayton, the only one of four seeded teams to make the semis, beat Temple 62-60 in what Coach Tom Blackburn called a "You take it, I don't want it" type of game.

"Our ball handling was the worst we've had this season," said Blackburn.

St. Louis, defensively strong but low in scoring, has beaten Miami (Fla.) 58-56 and Colorado State 56-56. The Billikens, playing in their 10th NIT, will be more of a match for Dayton in height than Temple was.

Fishing Around Arkansas Lakes

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Here is a fishing forecast from the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission:

Lake Norfolk: Water clear except dingy upper end. Bass fair on Bomber Bait.

Lake Conway: Water normal and dingy. Bass and crappie fair.

HOPE KIWANIS CLUB'S 18TH ANNUAL MINSTREL SHOW OPENED TO A full house at Blevins auditorium Tuesday night, and it went off with professional skill.

THIS PICTURE SHOWS GEORGE FRAZIER, KIWANIS PRESIDENT, crowning Miss Fern Stone as Minstrel Queen with the full company on stage. Blevins

Mr. Frazier called the audience's attention to the fact that Mrs. Eva Royneron, extreme right, had been the minstrel's accompanist for the last 17 of the 18 annual shows — and she was rewarded with a big hand.

Clarksville Has a Lion Scare

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — What would a lion be doing in this Arkansas River Valley area?

Grover Garrett, 71, can't answer that question. But he said Tuesday the animal he saw in his yard Sunday "definitely looked like a lion."

It had a big yellow mane, a long lion-like tail and was more than two feet tall, he said. He fired a load of buckshot at it—and thinks he hit it—and "it didn't just run, but left in leaps."

Garrett, who lives five miles northwest of Clarksville, said the beast's tracks were four inches across. He said he's seen them around since September. Some other residents also have seen paw prints, but they're not attributing them to lions.

Varmint hunters in the area are curious about the animal and they plan to keep a watch for it in hopes of tracking it down. They're not, however, ready to call their hunting a safari.

Cage Scandal Has Spread to the South

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—The spreading basketball scandal reached into the South today with the admission by Chancellor William B. Aycock that New York investigators had visited the University of North Carolina.

Aycock declined to comment beyond this brief statement he issued Tuesday midnight:

"Two representatives of the district attorney's office in New York City visited the University of North Carolina campus on Tuesday. They were seeking information in connection with the current nationwide investigation of basketball. The university cooperated fully with these investigators."

Aycock gave no hint of which UNC players, if any, were questioned.

Aaron Wagman, previously convicted of trying to bribe a University of Florida football player, and Joseph Hacken were arrested in New York last weekend when the basketball scandal broke.

Both have previous gambling convictions.

Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan's office indicated that players from 15 to 20 colleges might be involved in the scheme to shave points, in favor of gamblers.

Chancellor Aycock's statement resulted from a battery of inquiries concerning a Sports Illustrated article, on the newsstands today, that the scandal will involve some Southern state universities and "players and teams in both the major postseason tournaments: the NCAA and the NIT."

"On Monday of this week," the magazine article said, "New York City detectives were sent to the University of North Carolina and Philadelphia's LaSalle College to bring in several players for questioning. By Monday, too, it developed that three students at the University of Connecticut—not one—had been questioned."

James Henry, LaSalle athletics director, commented, "At this moment, I do not know anything about it. No one has talked to me."

In Kansas City, where the NCAA finals are scheduled for this weekend, NCAA Executive Director Walt Byers said the NCAA had no information to "warrant action."
